Preface

Placing each student's interests and well-being first is at the core of teaching in Ontario.

The Ontario College of Teachers (the College) is the self-regulating body for the teaching profession in Ontario and is responsible for:

- establishing and enforcing professional standards and ethical standards applicable to members of the College
- providing for the ongoing education of members of the College
- accrediting Additional Qualification (AQ) courses.

The College supports teaching excellence by preparing educators to work in varied and diverse educational contexts and geographical settings:

- English language public school
- French language public school
- English language Catholic school
- French language Catholic school
- First Nations school
- Provincial and Demonstration school
- Private school
- Independent school
- Urban setting
- Rural setting
- Remote setting

Additional Qualification (AQ) course guidelines are designed following extensive consultation and feedback from course providers, course writers and members of the teaching profession.

AQ course guidelines serve as the framework for providers and instructors to develop courses.

In this document, all references to candidates are to educators enrolled in the AQ course. References to learners indicate those enrolled in school programs.

Introduction

Additional Qualifications (AQs) for educators are identified in O. Reg. 176/10: Teachers' Qualifications Regulation. This regulation includes courses that lead to AQs, the Principal's Development Qualification, the Principal's Qualifications, the Primary Division, the Junior Division, the Intermediate Division, the Senior Division, the Supervisory Officer's Development Qualification and the Supervisory Officer's Qualifications. A session of a course leading to an AQ shall consist of a minimum of 125 hours as approved by the Registrar. Successful completion of the course is recorded on the candidate's Certificate of Qualification and Registration.

This AQ course guideline provides a framework upon which to develop courses that meet accreditation requirements established in O. Reg. 347/02: Accreditation of Teacher Education Programs.

Accreditation – Program of Additional Qualification

Accreditation requirements for AQ courses are articulated in O. Reg. 347/02: Accreditation of Teacher Education Programs, s. 24.

A program of additional qualification may be granted accreditation under this Regulation if the following requirements are satisfied:

1. The program content and expected achievement of persons enrolled in the program match the skills and knowledge reflected in the College's "Standards of Practice for the Teaching Profession" and the "Ethical Standards for the Teaching Profession" and in the program guidelines issued by the College.
2. The program satisfies the requirements of the teachers' qualifications regulation for entry of an additional qualification on the general certificate of qualification and registration of a person who successfully completes the program.
3. The program curriculum is current, references the Ontario curriculum, relevant legislation and government policies and represents a wide knowledge base in the program's area of study.
4. The course content of the program makes appropriate provision for the application of theory in practice.
5. The program's format and structure are appropriate for the course content of the program.
 - 5.1 The program consists of a minimum of 125 hours of work acceptable to the Registrar.
6. There is clear identification of the goals of the program, with a formal testing or assessment mechanism to determine the level of successful completion of the program.
7. The majority of the educators teaching the program have Ontario teaching experience relevant to the program.
8. The provider maintains adequate internal controls to preserve the integrity of student records relating to the program.
9. The provider is committed to continuous improvement and quality assurance of the program and, if the program is an existing program, has implemented measures demonstrating that commitment.
O. Reg. 347/02, s. 24; 2009, c. 33, Sched. 13, s. 3 (2); O. Reg. 182/10, s. 8.

Overview: Additional Qualification Course Guideline Design

The following section of AQ course guidelines are organized using the structure and content described below (Figure 1):

1. Foundational elements – six overarching distinct but interconnected elements grounding AQ course guidelines
2. Fundamental principles – accreditation requirements that are infused throughout the content of the AQ course and serve to inform providers and instructors of the conceptual framework from which to design AQ courses
3. Core concepts – candidates’ professional experience and learning needs in relation to the required elements of the AQ course
4. Required elements – subject and/or division specific knowledge, skills, practices and values that AQ course providers must infuse throughout the content of the AQ course
5. Required element statements – description of the professional knowledge, skills, practices and values related to the required element.

Additional Qualification Course Guideline Foundations

AQ course guidelines are grounded in six foundational elements, which are distinct but interconnected.

There are 15 required elements in English-language AQ course guidelines and 16 required elements in French-language AQ course guidelines:

Teaching LGBTQ Students

Additional Qualification – Schedule C (Single-Session)

This schedule C course deepens educators' knowledge and skills in the design and delivery of Teaching LGBTQ Students.

Additional Qualification Course Requirements

The AQ course Teaching LGBTQ Students enables candidates to advance their professional practice through focussed learning in the following areas:

- Curriculum Knowledge
- Pedagogical Strategies
- The Learning Environment.

This AQ course is designed and delivered using adult learning instructional practices.

The AQ Course Teaching LGBTQ Students reflects adult learning theories and processes that foster critical reflection, dialogue and inquiry. Instructors provide candidates with professional learning experiences related to teaching, learning and assessment of learners.

The purpose of this AQ is to enable educators to deepen their understanding of intersectionality, bias and assumptions about 2SLGBTQIA+ (Two-Spirit, Lesbian, Gay, Bisexual, Transgender, Queer, Intersex, Asexual and the + represents any additional sexual orientations and gender identities) communities. Educators will enhance their ability to authentically foster equitable and inclusive learning environments that promote allyship to counter stereotypes and misinformation. They will develop knowledge, skills and practices pertinent to teaching 2SLGBTQIA+ learners.

Ontario's Learning Context

Fundamental Principles:

Education in Ontario is complex and dynamic with learning communities that reflect the province's diversity. As the teaching profession continually evolves to meet the ever-changing needs of learners, educators are called upon to follow foundational principles that inform instructional practice.

Professional standards, the Ontario curriculum, and related legislation and regulation, including the Ontario Human Rights Code, the Education Act and Aménagement Linguistique Policy (for French-Language schools) serve as the foundation for equitable, inclusive and accessible education.

Through ongoing professional learning, educators deepen their understanding of these principles, thereby advancing their professional practice to support each student's learning and well-being.

Core Concepts:

Teaching LGBTQ Students develops and applies candidates' subject-specific professional practice, knowledge and skills through explicit instruction, reflections, guiding questions or resources in the following required elements:

Professional Standards

- significance of the Ethical Standards, Standards of Practice and Professional Advisories as theoretical foundations within the AQ Course Teaching LGBTQ Students
- ethical professional identity, knowledge, leadership, advocacy and collective practices to inform program planning.

Ontario curriculum and related Legislation and Regulation

- current Ontario curriculum, policies, frameworks, strategies and resources related to Teaching LGBTQ Students
- relevant legislation and policies at the municipal, provincial, federal and international levels that support human rights and privacy for all (for example, Canadian Charter of Rights and Freedoms, Canadian Human Rights Act, Ontario Human Rights Code, Anti-Racism Act, 2017, S.O. 2017, c. 15 and Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy Act)
- candidates' legal obligations and ethical responsibilities according to current provincial legislation, policies and practices
- strategies to inform 2SLGBTQIA+ learners of their rights in a safe and inclusive learning environment while countering misinformation.

Professional Learning

Fundamental Principles:

Professional learning is an integral part of the teaching profession and is essential for fostering continuous growth and improving outcomes for Ontario learners.

Throughout their career, educators continue to engage in ongoing professional learning informed by educational research and theories, including sessions offered by school boards or community partners, professional reading and AQ courses.

AQ courses serve as a key tool for enhancing professional practice by preparing educators for specific roles within the educational community. As part of their professional learning, educators are called upon to participate and lead in Professional Learning Networks and Community Engagement and Partnership opportunities that foster knowledge sharing, collaboration, and innovation to respond to diverse learner needs and create inclusive learning environments.

Core Concepts:

Teaching LGBTQ Students develops and applies candidates' subject-specific professional practice, knowledge and skills through explicit instruction, reflections, guiding questions or resources in the following required elements:

Educational Research and Theories

- current research and contributions representative of diverse voices and cultures associated with professional practices, policies and pedagogies related to 2SLGBTQIA+ identities in teaching and learning
- research and theories that reflects society's diverse changing nature and influence on learning and well-being (for example, 2SLGBTQIA+ communities in rural settings and urban centres, trauma-informed pedagogical practices and mental health resources)
- theoretical foundation for the design, assessment and implementation of programs and practices in support of learning
- application of theories of development and intersecting identity formation related to 2SLGBTQIA+ communities that support learner well-being, efficacy and agency
- understanding of current terminology related to identities and sexualities (for example, gender-based languages such as French, American Sign Language and Langue des signes québécoise)
- learning theories, including gender and sexual identities, to support the development of learner's profiles.

Professional Learning Networks

- professional learning communities that promote critical pedagogy and collective efficacy
- research and leadership to advance professional practice through ongoing collaborative inquiry, dialogue and innovation (for example, federation, affiliates and faith-based resources)
- equitable access to local, provincial and national resources and networks from 2SLGBTQIA+ communities for 2SLGBTQIA+ communities, including GSAs.

Community Engagement and Partnerships

- culturally responsive strategies to engage with learners, families, caregivers, guardians, allies, Elders, Knowledge Keepers and Knowledge Guardians, agencies and the school community including:
 - processes and practices to foster communication and collaboration to support learning
 - partnerships that value shared decision-making, confidentiality, advocacy and leadership
 - empowerment to navigate the education system and support learning and well-being
- strategies to build community partnerships that promote reciprocal learning experiences
- trauma-informed approaches to disrupt historical practices and adapt to the evolving nature of society (for example, checking biases and assumptions)
- authentic partnerships and collaboration with school councils and local 2SLGBTQIA+ advocacy organizations (for example, Egale Canada, pflag Canada, The 519).

First Nations, Métis, and Inuit Histories, Cultures, Perspectives and Knowledge Systems in Education

Fundamental Principles:

Ontario's educators are responsible to uphold the Truth and Reconciliation Commission of Canada: Calls to Action and align their professional practice with the United Nations Declaration on the Rights of Indigenous Peoples (UNDRIP). They engage in authentic reconciliatory action by learning from and valuing First Nations, Métis, and Inuit histories, perspectives and knowledge systems, in teaching and learning. Educators, as treaty partners, acknowledge that learning about, and upholding treaty responsibilities will guide them on the reconciliation journey.

Core Concepts:

Teaching LGBTQ Students develops and applies candidates' subject-specific professional practice, knowledge and skills through explicit instruction, reflections, guiding questions or resources in the following required elements:

First Nations, Métis, and Inuit Histories, Perspectives and Knowledge Systems

- meaningful inclusion of First Nations, Métis, and Inuit histories, perspectives and knowledge systems in teaching and learning processes, including diverse two-spirit identities
- knowledge of the Truth and Reconciliation Commission of Canada: Calls to Action (TRC)
- awareness of United Nations Declaration on the Rights of Indigenous Peoples (UNDRIP).

Anti-Oppression Foundation

Fundamental Principles:

An anti-oppression foundation acknowledges that systemic manifestations of power and privilege have led to multiple forms of oppression, injustices, inequities and inequalities. It is an approach that ensures equity and human rights are foundational to all AQ courses and programs.

Educators have a shared ethical and professional responsibility to identify and challenge individual and systemic barriers, including the impact of biases and assumptions related to power and privilege. Ongoing teacher education must recognize and address historical contexts that have contributed to various forms of oppression.

Through culturally responsive and relevant pedagogical practices, educators provide learning opportunities that respect diversity, foster learner well-being, and promote social justice and global citizenship.

Core Concepts:

Teaching LGBTQ Students develops and applies candidates' subject-specific professional practice, knowledge and skills through explicit instruction, reflections, guiding questions or resources in the following required elements:

Anti-Oppression Practices

- theories and pedagogies about multiple forms of oppression applied to the design, assessment and implementation of programs and practices
- challenging individual and systemic biases, discrimination and barriers as well as manifestations of power and privilege with the inclusion of 2SLGBTQIA+ content (for example, heteronormativity and cisnormativity)
- understanding the impact of local, provincial, national and international politics and current events that affect 2SLGBTQIA+ communities

- addressing disproportionate representation of learners from equity seeking groups within specialized programs
- knowledge of responsive strategies to counter the disproportionate socioeconomic impact on 2SLGBTQIA+ communities (for example, access to mental health resources, mentoring, employment trends, Specialist High Skills Major to promote all pathways)
- practices that address current, inclusive and widely recognized terminology to honour learner intersectionalities and lived experiences (for example, racialized identities).

Culturally Responsive and Relevant Pedagogical Practices

- culturally responsive and relevant practices that reflect understanding of learners' identities and intersectionalities
- understanding the complexities of allyship and strategies for exploring the difference between cultural appropriation and cultural appreciation
- culturally inclusive processes, practices and resources representative of diverse 2SLGBTQIA+ contributions, culture and role models to provide learning opportunities that respect the learning styles, voices and perspectives of each learner
- strategies to understand 2SLGBTQIA+ history (for example, resistance movements and accomplishments) and honour queer expression and culture when supporting learners from diverse backgrounds.

Social Justice and Global Citizenship

- processes and practices that foster 2SLGBTQIA+ learners' voice and choice, respect diversity, promote social and ecological justice and celebrate identities (for example, artifacts that represent 2SLGBTQIA+ communities)
- strategies for consensus-building, participatory democracy and empowerment within the public Catholic and independent school contexts and the community
- processes that engage learners as active global citizens in supporting environmental and economic sustainability as pertinent to 2SLGBTQIA+ populations
- responsive approaches to foster social justice in support of 2SLGBTQIA+ communities (for example, allyship)
- understand and teach how 2SLGBTQIA+ communities have implemented change and reclaimed histories and spaces.

Learner-Centred Pedagogy

Fundamental Principles:

Learner-centred pedagogy prioritizes learner engagement, well-being and success. Educators support student learning and well-being by encouraging learner voice, choice, and collaboration with families, caregivers, guardians, Elders, Knowledge Keepers and Knowledge Guardians and community partners.

Educators create safe, equitable, and inclusive learning environments that value diverse identities, experiences, and learning needs to ensure that all learners are empowered to reach their learning goals.

Core Concepts:

Teaching LGBTQ Students develops and applies candidates' subject-specific professional practice, knowledge and skills through explicit instruction, reflections, guiding questions or resources in the following required elements:

Supporting Learner Well-Being

- policies, processes and practices to support learners' cognitive, social, emotional, spiritual and physical development (for example, fostering brave spaces, days of significance, family structures and contributions from all communities)
- strategies that respond to the strengths, identities, needs and interests of each learner
- programs that respond to learners' lived experiences, linguistic abilities, mental health and well-being, including diversities within 2SLGBTQIA+ communities
- practices to understand learner's curiosities and experiences to empower them to reach their learning goals
- opportunities to provide student mentorship with members of 2SLGBTQIA+ communities.

Safe, Equitable and Inclusive Learning Environments

- policies and processes to create and maintain inclusive learning environments that:
 - respect diversity
 - encourage critical thinking
 - foster learner agency and perspectives
- strategies to foster inclusive learning environments (for example, resources in various formats, land-based learning, gender neutral language and spaces, preferred/chosen name and pronouns)
- support and affirm the identities of 2SLGBTQIA+ learners by ensuring school board equity policies are followed
- practices that support safe, equitable and healthy learning environments for learners as well as allies, families, caregivers, guardians, Elders, Knowledge Keepers and Knowledge Guardians
- accountability structures and proactive strategies in support of 2SLGBTQIA+ communities, such as the school improvement plan, to promote allyship and ensure safety of affinity groups, including GSA (Gender and Sexuality Alliance)
- ethical use of technology in support of learners' safety, privacy and well-being (for example, ensuring learner anonymity when appropriate).

Teaching, Assessing and Evaluating

Fundamental Principles:

Educators believe that each student can learn. Through evidence-based teaching and learning practices that are learner-centred, educators provide programs and services that offer equitable, inclusive and accessible opportunities for all. Educators use instructional strategies and assessment practices that respect the identities of each learner and support their cognitive, social, emotional, spiritual and physical development.

Accessibility, inclusion and equity are fundamental to everyday practice for teaching and learning. Informed by the Ontario Human Rights Code, Accessibility of Ontarians with Disabilities Act, 2005, and the Education Act, educators advocate for each learner to access and benefit from services and resources within the education system, understanding the unique needs presented by geographical and socioeconomic contexts.

As educators are responsible for instruction, assessment and evaluation of all learners, they provide accommodations, modifications, or alternative programming outlined in the Individual Education Plan (IEP), which must be developed by an interdisciplinary team to reflect the learner's strengths, needs, and abilities, according to Reg. 181/98.

Each learner has their own unique profile and goals. As such, educators design opportunities that support their transition, education, and life and career planning.

Core Concepts:

Teaching LGBTQ Students develops and applies candidates' subject-specific professional practice, knowledge and skills through explicit instruction, reflections, guiding questions or resources in the following required elements:

Teaching, Assessing and Evaluating

- program design and implementation aligned with the Ontario curriculum that foster transferable skills to support lifelong learning (for example, critical thinking, collaboration and innovation)
- instructional strategies and approaches (for example, differentiated instruction, universal learning design, experiential learning, outdoor learning and inquiry-based learning)
- assessment and evaluation processes and practices to:
 - provide feedback to learners and adjust instruction (assessment for learning)
 - develop learners' capacity to be independent, autonomous learners (assessment as learning)
 - make informed professional judgments about the quality of learning (assessment of learning)
- integration of information and communication technology to enhance teaching and learning, ensuring the authenticity of sources
- cross-curricular opportunities to include local, provincial, national and international 2SLGBTQIA+ history, perspectives and contributions.

Accessibility for All

- legal and ethical responsibilities of the Ontario Human Rights Code and Accessibility for Ontarians with Disabilities Act S.O., 2005 through the examination of protected grounds pertinent to 2SLGBTQIA+ communities
- adaptive strategies, such as assistive technologies, accessible content and inclusive design to facilitate learning and foster inclusion within and beyond the school environment (for example, field trips and school events)
- strategies to address ableism that exists in processes and practices.

Legal and Ethical Responsibilities related to Special Education

- legal and ethical responsibilities related to learner's Individual Education Plan (IEP), safety plan, and transition plan
- programs, strategies and services that counter misconceptions about 2SLGBTQIA+ learners to support the achievement of individual goals outlined in their respective plans
- interdisciplinary teams to support learning, advocacy and transitions.

Transition and Pathway Planning

Transition Planning

- processes and practices to support all transitions from elementary to secondary and secondary to post-secondary, including college, apprenticeship, university, workplace and community living (for example, ongoing communication and sharing of resources across grade levels)
- policies, programs and learning opportunities that value each pathway equally and equitably
- understanding of historical spaces and occupations to expand traditional and non-traditional pathways for 2SLGBTQIA+ careers (for example, S.T.E.A.M. [Science, Technology, Engineering, Arts, Mathematics]).

Education, Life and Career Planning

- curriculum design to relate classroom learning to learners' career and life planning
- exploration of a variety of entry points to all career pathways.
